FRANCE

Our very own Bordeaux winery, Le Chai au Quai, on the banks of the Dordogne

“France is where it all began for Laithwaite's in 1969, pioneering direct sales ‘From the Vineyard to your Door’. From Castillon near Bordeaux we branched out gradually across the country, helping to make many off-the-beaten-track regions the household names they are today. Enjoy exploring some of our current, luxury French selections – the quality and variety here are breath-taking.”

Ruth Chavarri strolls through her family's estate, cool glass of white Rioja in hand

"After introducing the UK to Bordeaux and southern France, Tony drove his van over the Spanish border into Rioja. We're still finding new delights in this incredible region, including a great range from the brilliant Chavarri family and some gems from the best producers in the region. This is a rare chance to taste some premium wines with age and many different styles of Rioja, including two excellent white wines. We also have a great selection of wines from Artiga Fustel which highlight the best of other regions of Spain."

ITALY

The Barbanera family started making wine in the tiny Tuscan village of Piazze in 1938. They're still there today, but have spread their wings right across Italy

“Laithwaite’s has been spreading the gospel of Italian wines and way of life for over 40 years. In Italy vino is all about the relationships with the people tending the vineyards and working in the cellars. For example, every week Cantine Due Palme hosts all of its loyal growers for a chin-wag, an exchange of ideas and a glass or two. Come on over to their stand and do exactly the same. Enjoy some Tuscan hospitality with the Barbanera family and be sure to have a celebratory glass of Prosecco. Cin Cin!”

GERMANY

The word Pfalz is a derivation of the Latin word palatium, meaning palace. Its warm vineyards produce ripe, regal styles of Riesling and Spätburgunder

“Germany’s Pfalz region has a long and proud tradition of making world class white wines. The warmer climate here makes for a richer and riper style of Riesling and I’ve picked out two of my favourites for you to try. The region now also produces beautifully fresh reds from the Spätburgunder grape. Hope you love this style as much as I do.”

HUNGARY

Vineyards in Etyek
Buda, Hungary

“The vineyards of Hungary once supplied the Imperial Russian Court with fine wines. One of the first wineries we worked with back in the early 1990s is Törley. They have a rich history of wine making in this region, which makes them the perfect partner for us to work alongside. Head winemaker Gábor Laczkó knows exactly what our customers like best and showcases his talents here with four very different, utterly delicious styles.”

SOUTH AMERICA

Chile's sun-drenched
Mendoza produces wines
of incredible purity

“Tony Laithwaite blazed a trail through Chile back in the 1980s and we’ve loved the nation’s fruit-rich wines ever since. We are spoiled for choice in Chile today while in neighbouring Argentina, it’s Malbec of course that really dazzles our palates (but don’t miss the amazing Torrontés also on show today). Enjoy exploring both sides of the Andes!”

SOUTH AFRICA

The diverse landscape of South Africa continues to produce outstanding wines in a variety of styles

“The South African wine scene just keeps getting better. Rich in tradition with highly skilled, passionate winemakers and a huge diversity of landscapes, it is producing expressive wines in a variety of styles. The wines on show today focus on four grapes that really thrive in The Cape – Merlot, Chardonnay, Sauvignon Blanc and South Africa’s particular speciality, Chenin Blanc. Enjoy!”

NEW ZEALAND

"Our role in introducing the UK to the splendour of Kiwi Sauvignon is well documented. It all started in 1986 when Ernie Hunter's Marlborough Sauvignon took our London show by storm. Wow! No one had ever tasted anything quite like it before! Many of our newer friends were also pioneers of Kiwi wine, like the Nelson region's Seifried family. Come by and try these extraordinarily expressive wines."

AUSTRALIA

RedHeads winemaker Alex Trescowthick in the latest vineyard in South Australia.

“The Shiraz and Chardonnays the UK first fell in love with nearly 40 years ago remain as popular as ever – they’re just better than they’ve ever been! Our foray into Oz wines began with Bailey’s Bundara 1979 and Mitchelton’s classic “Rhine” Riesling. Our favourite Aussie winemakers too have got better with age – folks like The Black Stump’s Alan Kennett, the great Bill Calabria, ‘big Andrew McPherson’ and those wild-eyed mavericks from RedHeads. Try the wines and remind yourself what makes Australia one of the world’s great wine countries.”

FORTIFIED WINES

Fortified wines age in cathedral-like silence for years, even decades, before their release

“The world’s most famous style of fortified wine just has to be Port. Andresen is one of the few remaining independent, family-run producers and you can try three of their most exciting bottlings today. Andresen owner Carlos Flores de los Santos presides over a magnificent collection of aged ports and is ably assisted by chief winemaker Alvaro van Zeller – the former Head of Tasting at the Port Wine Institute.”

THE OLIVE STORE

theolivestore.co.uk

The Olive Store was founded in 2005 by Michael Derham, a university lecturer in Spanish, while on a trip to Spain to visit his students. As a Spanish speaker he was able to travel to the rural interior of Andalucía, to discover and bring home the authentic taste of rural Spain. Andalucía alone has the largest production of olive oil in the world especially using the famous Picual olives. The ham and chorizos are produced in Jabugo, a tiny, remote village world famous for its climatic conditions which make it perfect for curing ham from the local Ibérico black pigs which are free range and fed on acorns.
